WHAT HAPPENS WHEN I MAKE A WARRANTY CLAIM?

During the Warranty Period, MacroAir will, at its sole discretion and cost (as limited by this Warranty):

Repair or replace parts of the Product, as necessary, to return the Product to proper operation;
Repair or replace the entire Product; or Refund the price you paid for the Product upon return of the Product to MacroAir. (You must pay shipping and insurance.)

REPAIR, REPLACEMENT, OR REFUND ARE THE EXCLUSIVE REMEDIES AVAILABLE UNDER THE MACROAIR WARRANTY. MACROAIR IS NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR DAMAGES OF ANY KIND, INCLUDING INCIDENTAL AND CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES.

For Products that qualify for extended labor, MacroAir will pay reasonable labor³ costs incurred to repair or replace defective parts or a defective Product at the original installation location. In the alternative and in its sole discretion, MacroAir may require you to return of the Product to MacroAir for repair or replacement.

MacroAir will ship the repaired Product or replacement Product to you at no charge; however, you are responsible for all costs of removal, reinstallation, and shipping of the Product to the MacroAir service center located at 794 South Allen Street, San Bernardino, CA 92408. If local laws require a certified electrician to reinstall the Product, MacroAir will reimburse the costs incurred to ship the Product to the MacroAir service center.

OBTAINING WARRANTY SERVICE:

Discovering a defect. If the Product is malfunctioning, turn it off immediately. Do not restart it until it has been examined by a MacroAir technician.

As soon as possible, contact MacroAir' Technical Support by visiting the MacroAir website and starting a technical support case at <https://macroairfans.com/support> or by calling the Technical Support phone number: (866) 668-3247

Provide information. Once you have initiated your technical support case, MacroAir will process it under the Warranty terms. A MacroAir representative will contact you and ask you to provide: Your contact information, including the installation address of the Product; the Product's brand name, serial number, purchase price, and verification of date of Product installation or, if you are not the original owner of the Product, the date you came into possession of the installation location; and a detailed description of the Product's problem.

Response from MacroAir. If MacroAir determines you have a valid Warranty claim, MacroAir will process your claim and respond appropriately. If the response requires shipment of a replacement part, MacroAir will provide you with any shipping labels and documents needed to return the original defective part, including a Return Materials Authorization (RMA) number.

When you accept delivery of a replacement part, you are also agreeing to return the defective part to MacroAir within fifteen (15) days of the date the replacement part was delivered to you. If you fail to return the original part, MacroAir will invoice you for the retail cost of the replacement part which must be paid immediately upon receipt of the invoice. MacroAir reserves all legal and equitable rights to collect payment for the replacement part if you fail to comply with these terms.

³ "Labor" means on-site technical service of the Product provided by MacroAir during applicable Warranty coverage time. At MacroAir's sole discretion, the person(s) providing this on-site service may be employees of MacroAir or qualified technicians contracted by MacroAir. MacroAir will not reimburse Customers or independent contractors for Product service performed without prior written approval from MacroAir. MacroAir will reimburse the Customer in whose building the Product is installed, with such reimbursement limited to the reasonable cost paid by the Customer to an independent contractor hired to remove, dismantle, reassemble, or reinstall any of the Products under the Warranty during the applicable coverage period. MacroAir may request proof of payment by the Customer to the independent contractor of all service charges, and will reimburse the Customer only for those charges MacroAir, in its sole discretion, determines to be reasonable and necessary under the circumstances and inclusive of the cost of any lift or other equipment needed to service the Product.

Site visit or Product return. Depending on the issue your Product is experiencing, it may be necessary to have a MacroAir certified technician contact you to remove, repair, or replace the Product. For Products that qualify for extended labor, MacroAir will pay reasonable labor costs incurred to repair or replace defective parts or a defect Product at the installation location. Alternatively, MacroAir may, in its sole discretion, require you to return of the entire Product to MacroAir for repair or replacement. Should MacroAir ask you to ship the entire Product back to MacroAir for repairs or replacement, MacroAir will prepay the shipping and insurance for factory-installed Products for the first 365 days after the commencement of the Warranty Period.

WARRANTY CONDITIONS

—MacroAir reserves full, sole, and complete discretion to determine, based on its own evaluation and testing of the Product and its components, whether the problem reported by the Customer is a defect covered under the Warranty. (Non-covered problems are listed in the Exclusions section below.);

—If MacroAir determines, in its full, sole, and complete discretion, that the appropriate remedy under the Warranty is a refund, the refund amount will be limited to the price paid by the Customer for the Product, and under no circumstances will it include any other costs incurred or anticipated by the Customer, including labor, shipping, packaging, and other costs.

—If MacroAir determines, in its full, sole, and complete discretion, that a part or parts within the Product must be replaced or repaired, MacroAir may choose to use refurbished replacement parts.

—MacroAir warrants any replacement parts, whether refurbished or new, will operate properly and be free from defects in materials and workmanship for a period of ninety (90) days from the date the replacement parts are shipped to you, or for the remainder of the original warranty period, whichever is longer.

—If you return a Product to MacroAir for Warranty service and it has been modified in any way or if it is missing any parts, MacroAir reserves the right, in its full, sole, and complete discretion, to require you to pay one or more of the following: a service fee, parts replacement fee, and shipping fee. The amount of the fee(s) will be based on materials and labor costs necessary to return the Product to its original factory condition.

—The MacroAir Warranty gives you specific legal rights, and you may also have other legal rights which vary from state to state.

—MacroAir reserves the right to change this Warranty and its terms at any time without advance notice. You can view the most current version of this Warranty on the MacroAir website at macroairfans.com/warranty.
